THE HATIONAL REPUBLICAN HAS. LARGER GIROULATION THAN ANY OTHER MORNING PAPER IS THE DISTRICT OF CO.

WEDNESDAY MORNING::::OCTOBER 21, 1844. A FEW DAYS AGO We called attention to the fact that this is a bad year for Parsons. We now advise parsons to watch and prey.

WHAT has become of the Liberal Republican party? We have not heard a chirrup from one of its leaders for the last week.

AN PROPERT REPORMER in the West recently delivered an address before an agricultural society, in which he vigorously denounced the railroad monopolies. It now turns out that he rode to the meeting on a free pass. That is the way with some of

THE District of Columbia is the only section of the country that is undisturbed by an election this year. But in no section of the Republic are the elections watched more closely and intently. For a variety of reasons we are by no means indifferent to the result.

LESSONS of the election are in order just only one party with which to ally himself. now, and every newspaper editor is en- The tendencies of Democracy are all todesvoring to teach a different one. One says it is the third term, a second, the fi- to-day murch under the banner of repudlanances; a third, temperance; a fourth, the | tion and financial dishonesty. In the South South; a fifth, a desire for a change, &c., Democracy means death to the "nigger: &c. Meanwhile the great November battle | in the West a financial policy whose end is approaches, and we shall probably have a bankruptcy; in the North a mere struggle new set of music when it is over.

THE Richmond Enquirer takes it in this way : "Our people once more raise their | but it cannot in the very nature of things "heads in thankfulness to their God. who last; and if, as we said, Republicans only "has not deserted them in their need, but do their duty, even temporary success is "still extends His protecting hand over "them for their safety and happiness." The idea that the Lord has now or ever did have anything to do with the Democratic party is certainly refreshing.

THE more sagacious and far-seeing in New York are beginning to tremble for her commercial supremacy. One of the jour-nals of that city says: "Baltimore is se-"curleg the sugar and coffee trade. Boston "is attracting much of the grain trade "which New York formerly monopolized." "The Weste, u cities are taking the jobbing business away from us, and our carrying "trade has passed almost entirely into "foreign hands." Everybody would seem to be getting a slice except Washington. What are our business men and capitalists doing?

THE Cleveland Herald thinks the trouble with our affairs to-day is that party politics are in the hands of office-holders or officeto manage the machinery in the primaries and in the nominating conventions it would be a great improvement. This may be the people themselves? Not one in one hundred voters will go near the primaries, and so the politicians have their own way. The root of all our evils lies in those very primaries, and it is the first duty of every citizen to attend them. As long as they keep away they will be misrepresented and misgoverned, no matter what party is in

THE opposition journals assert that in every State in the South where the Republicans have the control business is oppressed and the condition of the people keartrending. How is it in Tennessee where the Democrats are in power? The Knoxville Chronicle gives an idea of the Brown and his party came into power "what was the situation in Tennessee? "at every town and city in the State? "Business was prosperous. Where one "built then. Mechanics had plenty of 'iron and coal mines were being developed. Prosperity was visible everywhere. How "is it now? Where is the city in Tennes-"see that is incressing in population and "wealth in a measure commensurate with "its natural advantages? What is being 'done for internal improvements? How "many railroads are being built? Where "are new iron mines being opened and "cultural, manufacturing and commercial "pursuits been so lifeless." REPUBLICAN DUTY.

resentatives has become a matter of doubt and uncertainty. The Republican party has been so strongly intrenched in the conforts to maintain its supremacy. Its majorities were so large that they were not only troub) some but dangerous-a source of weakners rather than of strength. The party always has been way ward and independent. One reason, and the principal reason, of its peculiarity in this respect consists in the fact that, unlike the opposition, its members do not give a blind adhesion to their leaders, and insist every once and awhile in kicking over the traces. The Democracy always polls its full vote : the Republican party rarely except when danger looms up and the fundamental princi-ples in which it believes are threatened with overthrow. Viewed in this light, the recent elections may prove to be blessings in disguise. It needed a political earthquake like Ohio and Indians to bring the party to its senses, to convince it that the policy of letting things take care of themselves is unwise and fraught with peril; that some time or another there is certain to be revolt and evolution when the load becomes too heavy

We have no idea that the country is pre pared for a restoration of the old Demo ratic party, especially as during the years it has been out of power it has become bad instead of better, and shown no disposition whatever to change the policy and ideas which made it so objectionable to the people. It is still the party of State rights, as Davis and the Southern leaders understood the term; and if a crisis similar to that which of 1861 were to again arise its President would in all probability be found where Buchanan was found, doing exactly as he did in the face of armed rebellion. We have mid that the party has become had instead of better. If the proof were re. quired it would be only necessary to point to its position on the fluances. It has always son serote: "Every one knows that although | and nurtured in the very place where of all

'not literally, it is nearly true that every. paper dollar emitted banishes a allver one from the circulation. To trade on equal terms, the common measure of values should be as nearly as possible on a par with that of its corresponding nations where medium is in a sound state; that is to say, not in an accidental state of excess or deficiency. Now, one of the great advantages of specie as a medium is that, being of universal value, it will keep itself at a general level, flowing out from from where it is to high into parts where it is lower. The truth is that capital may be produced by industry, and accumu-"lated by economy; but jugglers only will "propose to create it by legerdemain tricks with paper." And yet that is the very thing the Democratic party of Indiana and Ohio propose to do to-day, and for which they are applauded by the New York World, which throws out the almost-forgotten flag of its country in honor of the victory the

'jugglers' have won. Were Mr. Jefferson alive he would scorn and repudiate the mongrel party which seeks to shelter itself under his name to-day. If Republicans everywhere only do their duty no danger can come to the Republican party. It is true that it has blundered that many of its leaders have been unfaithful to the trusts reposed in them; but the soul which inspires it is still as pure and patriotic as ever. It is still the party of Everett W. Early, is now chairman of the Reprogress, of equal justice for all men, the leader of everything calculated to make the American Republic the foremost Government in the world, the American people the foremost people. Its history is the proudest chapter in our annals as a nation. Bold and unscrupulous men have sometimes used it for their own advantage and advance ment, but what party has not been afflicted in a similar way? A party should be judged not by its individual members or even leaders, but by its general tendency and policy. And judged and weighed in this way for the honest voter and citizen, there is wards disunion; a majority of its members for office. It is not possible that a party so handicapped can succeed. Apathy and indifference may give a temporary triumph, impossible. FREE TRADE IN MONEY. The question of "usury" is one of paramount interest in this country, about which there are various opinions. While it is popular among borrowers to denounce lenders as "Shylocks" when pay-day comes and they have not prepared themselves to meet their engagements, it is noticeable that they are proverbially careless as to the rates which they engage to pay when they desire to make the loan. Many are of the opinion that no arbitrary rate of interest should be fixed by law. They assert that trade in money should be as free as that in produce and merchandise, and that the rate of hire should be regulated wholly by supply and demand, except where the use of money arises from accident by the decease of its owners, and then that its value should be determined by courts and juries upon eviseekers, and if the people were permitted | dence, as is the case with other property. There is great force in the arguments adduced to enforce this view. Perhaps there is no other commodity (if we may call it true, but whose fault is it except that of such) which fluctuates more regularly than the precious metals or the circulating medium. Consequently arbitrary, fixed rates for its use are unjust. The holders of these articles are entitled to the advance in their value created by an increused demand at certain seasons of the year by the movement of crops or at periods of speculations and overtrading just as much as the holders of breadstuffs and provisions have the right to the higher prices which those articles command in a time of scarcity.

This view being correct, "usury" laws should be abolished. There can be no doubt that their effect is greatly demoralizing and their tendency is to make money more scarce in times of stringency. Many actual situation in that State in the follow. | capitalists utterly refuse to lend at usurious ing pertinent inquiries : "When John C. | rates, because of the attendant risk. The increased rates of interest would check speculations before they could reach the hazardon points which result in general disaster. Governments ignore fixed legal rates in

So with nations and States and corporations who let their interest payments go by default and finally repudiate a portion of the principal. When they next go into the market for a loan they meet with a cold reception and a demand for higher rates of interest. Capitalists do not like to loan money, no matter how good the security, to parties who will compel them to realize their money out of such security. The prompt meeting of engagements in accordance with their spirit and tenor is the surest basis of a sound credit at the lowest rates of interest. The conversion of securities is always a slow and tedious process. To be obliged to go through it discomposes all the plans which the lender may have laid for a reinvestment of his money, and causes much vexation and anxlety, for which he has no taste. Free-trade in money would obviate nearly all these difficulties and prevent untold quantities of

AT THE Woman's Congress, in Chicago, Mrs. Mitchell entered a plea for fallen women, upon which Mrs. Julia Ward Howe made the sensible remark: "What "made woman infamous should also be "considered the same as applied to men. There was for the daughters a parlor of "decorum-for the sons a back door into 'the dark, deadly valley of the city's sin. Every night there should be a candle burning in some home, there should be motherly counsel, sisterly love and ad-"dering one." In this matter of social reform a large portion of the work and responsibility depends upon women themselves. Society and custom are powerful tyrants, but they are not invincible. In a large number of lostsmoss the seeds of the been the boast of the party that it was in distemper which is dragging down the age three of hard money. In 1818 Mr. Jeffer. Anyions from the Seventh district of Virginia induce the hope that Senator John F. Lewis will make the canvass of that district for Congress against the Hon. John T. Harris. It is the Valley district, the former home of a large number of Old Line Whigs, who were at different periods prominent in the public ser-vice, and whose memory, as well as their principles, are still fresh in the minds of the people. Notable among them may be monned the late John B. Baldwin, W. T. Early and John Harman. Either of the two lastnamed, had they lived, would have commanded a full Republican vote for Congress. Perhaps the strongest hopes of the party were centered in Mr. Early. He was always, like Senator Lewis and many of his neighbors, a devoted friend of the Union and a life-long foe to the Democratic party. With a high sense of honor, he possessed the confidence and respect of the entire community, which honored him with many positions of public trust in his State and county. He was a delegate to the DESTRICT OF COLUMNIA last National Whig Convention in 1852. Since the war he has been a true and bold Republican of the purest stripe. His son, Captain publican Executive Committee of the western district at Lynchburg, and is true to the teachings of his revered father. His name is prominently mentioned as the opponent of Mr. Tucker. Mr. W. T. Early was last year selected by the President as one of the board of visitors at the Military Academy at West Point, which position he filled with much credit. He died in July, 1874, after a brief illness, greatly deplored. The Bepublicans of the district, although fully aware of the desire of Senator Lewis to retire from public life, look upon him as in a certain sense the servant of the people, and they are making strenuous endeavors to prevall upon him to canvass the district in the interest of the party, and in the full belief that they can secure his return to the Lower House of Congress. We trust that they may be successful in their

The people, too, are tolerably well convinced that a man who would desert the Republican party for failure to secure a nomination, and then turn round and take up the cudgels against 11, is not just the in-dividual they want to represent them in the National Legislature, and it is apparent that the majority of them are inclined to let him severely

In the Newark election of 1873 'Nehemiah Perry (Dem.) was elected mayor by 203 majority. In the month following the Republican majority on the Assembly ticket was 1,308. This year the Republican aldermanic ticket, loaded with local issues and unworthy names, was defeated by 459 majority, while the Republican freeholders were elected by 404 majority, and the Republican water commissioners by 742 majority. Next month Halsey and Ward will carry the city by not much less than 5,000 majority.
